Guidance for choosing the right Attendee and Pass Type

Attendee Type

- Exhibitor or Sponsor: An exhibitor or sponsor is an individual or organization that will have a physical or online booth presence at the ISC Exhibition. The booth staff typically needs an exhibition pass for exhibitors.

- Exhibitor + Speaker: An exhibitor who is scheduled to speak at the ISC Vendor Program. This definition excludes booth presentations.

- Speaker: A speaker who will be speaking at the ISC Contributed or Invited Program.

- Student: As a student you are currently enrolled at an academic institution and able to present a valid student ID or other proof.

- Media/Analyst: A limited number of complimentary registrations are available for media and analysts covering the HPC sector. You can register in advance, but you must be accredited before the event.

- Regular Attendee: A person (who is none of the above) who will purchase one of the following: the ISC Conference Pass, Exhibition Pass, Tutorial Pass or Workshop Pass.

Pass Type

- Industry: The industry rate applies if your organization operates as a commercial business. Please check against your organization's legal form if you are unsure.

- Academia: The academia rate applies if your organization operates in a non-commercial environment and aims to promote education and research.

- Student: The student rate applies to students currently enrolled at an academic institution and able to present a valid student ID.
